

PRIMARY VOTE IS LIGHT THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE STATE

Few Contests in Either Party Are Responsible For the Little Interest Shown.

ELECTING 76 DELEGATES

Both Democrats and Republicans to Select Equal Numbers: Only One Name on Republican Presidential Ticket; Palmer on the Democratic.

By Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Rain in the western and southern portions of the state greeted voters who appeared early today at the polls. A light vote was cast except in localities where there were contests. Governor Sprout's adherents and the McClure organization battled for supremacy in the governor's own county of Delaware. Interest was intense and a large vote was polled early.

In Philadelphia interest centered in the contest for the vacancy in the Third congressional district created by the resignation of T. H. Thompson Moore to become mayor. The Republican faction led by Senator Vare supported Harry C. Ransley, while the followers of Moore were for Charles A. Delany.

Seventy-six delegates to the Republican National convention and an equal number to the Democratic nominating assembly are being elected in Pennsylvania today at statewide primaries. Socialists and Prohibitionists are also holding their primaries but they have no contests.

Election in Pennsylvania have the privilege of indicating the presidential preference but only one name, that of Edward Randolph Wood, a retired business man of Philadelphia, appears on the Republican ballot and only that of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer is on the Democratic presidential preference ballot. The faction opposing Attorney General Palmer has asked its supporters to write the name of William G. McAdoo on the ballot.

There are numerous fights for places in the Republican delegation, the contest being over persons rather than presidential preferences.

There are 12 delegates at large to be elected and 15 candidates were nominated. The Republican state organization has stated 12 and attempts are being made by the Vare faction in Philadelphia to break the state. The organization candidates include United States Senators Penrose and Knox; Governor Sprout; Mayor Babcock of Pittsburgh; Mayor Moore of Philadelphia; W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and State Attorney General Schaffer.

Delegates are not instructed but it is understood that all 12 are for Governor Sprout for first choice for president and some are announced for General Wood for second. A majority of the 64 district delegates are understood to be for Sprout first with a number favoring Leonard Wood for second choice.

CITY POLLS LIGHT VOTE UP TO NOON; ONLY ONE CONTEST

Little Interest Is Evidenced Except in Race for Congressional Nomination.

Early voting in the primary elections in Connellsville wards was light. After the usual vote taken in the morning while men are going to their work there was a noticeable lull which was expected to last through the afternoon.

The heaviest vote, it was expected, would be polled early in the evening. There is not any particular interest shown in the elections as there are few real contests on either ticket.

On the Republican ticket there is a three-cornered race between Samuel A. Kendall of Meyersdale, James B. Werner of Somerset and Victor Francis of Perryopolis for Congressman. There are also 15 candidates for delegate at large, 12 of whom are to be elected.

It is not expected the count will be completed until late tonight as it will be tedious work compiling the vote received by each of the many candidates.

The weather today, while cloudy, was favorable and did not keep any one away from the polls.

Reports from other parts of Fayette county indicated a light vote was being polled practically everywhere.

No disorders of any kind were reported in the city or county. Up to 2 o'clock 85 votes had been polled in the First ward, 75 in the Fifth and 45 in the Second. A correspondingly low vote had also been cast in the other wards.

WORK DONE BY THE RED CROSS SHOWN IN COUNTY SURVEY

Nearly 2,800 Cases, Covering 122 Points in the County, Found.

VISITING SICK A FEATURE

Red Cross chapter officials recently made a survey of the work being accomplished throughout the chapter territory and compiled some very interesting data which would seem to demonstrate the need and permanency of a Red Cross organization in Fayette county. They found nearly 2,800 cases covering 122 points in the county had been handled by the Civilian Relief bureau of this chapter, and from word received from division headquarters at Philadelphia, the Fayette county chapter is covering its field probably more thoroughly than any other chapter in the whole division. These cases cover every manner and kind of service, and especially since the work has been enlarged upon to cover all civilians as well as service men and their dependents, have the problems become more varied and complicated. The Civilian Relief bureau is especially anxious to get before all ex-service men throughout the county the fact that it is equipped to render information and help regarding any after war problems the men might be faced with. It also wishes to call attention to the fact that June 30 is the last day on which service men can re-instate their government insurance and believe that if all ex-service men knew the great advantages and protection offered by a government insurance policy, they would continue to carry at least a part of the original amount they had while in active military or naval service.

Information compiled on the public health nursing service showed that 755 visits have been made among the sick and afflicted in the county in a period of a little over three months, when the work was first started. The Fayette county chapter has two public health nurses, but practically all of the nursing service has been done by Mrs. Audrey Skomp, as Mrs. Edna K. Thomas devotes practically her entire time to class instruction work. The chapter now has in training at Philadelphia Miss Mary Shaffer, who will also take up Red Cross public health nursing service in the county upon completion of her course in June. As in the case of civilian relief work, the public health nursing service covers all parts of the chapter territory.

In 10 different localities throughout the county 13 classes in home nursing and care of the sick have been formed. Some of these classes have already been completed and new ones will shortly be started. The combined enrollment of these 13 classes numbered 233 women and girls and in one class already completed the majority attending finished the course which consists of 15 lessons of one hour and a half each. The chapter has already found a marked improvement in the health and living conditions in some homes where the women have taken this course of instruction.

REPAIRING BELL TOWER

Steeple-jack on Cameron School Attracts Much Attention.

The bell tower of the Cameron school, damaged last fall when it was struck by lightning, is being repaired by a Pittsburgh steeplejack. The man, perched on a small "scaffold" lowered from the top of the tower by a rope, attracted much attention today as he replaced the broken slate.

There are several places on the tower needing repairing and it is being thoroughly gone over by the man. Since last fall Superintendent S. P. Ashe has endeavored to secure someone to do the repairing without success. Last week an item was printed in The Courier, calling attention to the unrepaired place. The next day the man made application to do this work.

FATHERS OF U. S. CONSTITUTION NOT OPPOSED TO DRINK

Justice Holmes, Supreme Court, Drops
What May Be Significant Remark
During Session.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 18.—With the Supreme court's failure to act in the prohibition cases Monday, only two more decision days remain before adjournment on June 7 for the term. While the court has given no indications when it will act, a decision before adjournment generally is expected.

Associate Justice Holmes, while rendering an opinion in connection with a personal injury case, said that so far as he knew, the fathers of the constitution were not opposed to "strong drink."

The justice added that he could not believe "for a moment that apart from the 18th amendment, special constitutional principles exist against strong drink."

Justice Holmes was discussing the question of Congress delegating powers to the states when he made the passing reference to the liquor question.

The court dismissed for lack of jurisdiction appeals brought by James K. Perrine, a property owner, from state supreme court decrees which sustained validity of the Oklahoma statute penalizing real estate owners who permit their property to be used in violation of state prohibition laws.

FOURTEEN PENS, ARE BURNED IN STOCKYARD FIRE

Entire Plant at Greene Junction
Is Threatened For a Time;
Estimated Loss, $10,000.

SPARK IS SAID TO BE CAUSE

Flames Are First Seen in Hay Rack
Where It Is Believed a Hot Cinder Fell; Blaze Fought With Water
From Five Hose Lines and Brigade.

Fire yesterday afternoon did considerable damage to the plant of the Connellsville Stockyards company at Greene Junction. A blaze, thought to have been started by a spark from an engine lighting in the hay rack, burned 14 shed pens and four open pens, also two carloads of lumber and one and a half carloads of hay. No statement was available at the company's office regarding the loss but it is estimated to have been close to $10,000.

The fire began just about 4 o'clock. Preparations had been made to take eight carloads of stock into the pens just when the flames were seen. The Baltimore & Ohio firemen responded to the call and water from engines was used on the flames. The South Connellsville truck also responded. By this time the fire was going in four different directions. A call was also sent to the Connellsville department, but the local men were unable to do anything, the nearest fire plug being too far away to be of use.

Two engines supplied water while another line was attached to the high pressure line of the Capitan Glass company. Another was run 2,000 feet from the low pressure line of the Aluminum Coating company. Five streams of water in all were played on the flames and after hard fighting, they were finally subdued about 6 o'clock. A bucket brigade was formed by South Connellsville boys to assist in the fight.

Through the strenuous efforts of the fire fighters the main building and the greater portion of the pens were saved. There are still 66 pens available for use. Forty-one cars of stock to come in tonight will be handled without difficulty.

The lumber which was burned had been purchased in order to place a roof over all the pens. It had been piled up until carpenters could be procured to do the work.

P. & L. E. IMPORTS MEN

Hundred Fifty Strike Breakers Arrive at the Newell Yards.

Those, with 10 men who arrived Sunday, made it possible to put on additional crews. Three more crews were at work yesterday in the Newell yards and other men are expected to report out for duty.

The other roads are operating normally Monday and it is confidentially expected that the strike conditions will have been overcome for the most part by the end of the week, although little improvement is seen in traffic conditions. The Newell yards are at the present moment in excellent shape considering the disadvantages under which the officials have been working.

REV. LAMBERTSON ADDED TO SPEAKERS AT "SPUDDING IN"

Occasion Will Draw Many Persons to the Gilmore Farm to Witness Start of Drilling.

Being one of four wells to be drilled upon the extensive leasehold, of the Connellsville Oil & Drilling company, the ceremonies attending the start of the drill at No. 1 well on the Gilmore farm by Rockwell Marietta this evening, will attract many people to the scene.

Rev. J. H. Lambertson has been added to the list of speakers upon the occasion, which will be in somewhat striking contrast with the inauguration of the experimental well in the same neighborhood 20 years ago. Then there was not the general public interest in such enterprises as there is at this time. There was no McKeesport gas field with its almost daily record of "gassers" to stimulate people to activity in new fields. A few people, firm in their belief that the Breakneck district held a wealth of oil or gas, associated themselves together to make a test, which was done by drilling two wells approximately 2,000 feet in depth. This was not productive of the results hoped for and the attempt to prove the territory was abandoned. Ever since signs have been visible that oil or gas, or perhaps both, exist in large quantities. To satisfactorily demonstrate the possibilities in this direction the company, which begins operations tonight, has equipped itself to make a thorough test.

The enterprise is wholly local in its organization and has employed experienced men to conduct its operations. George W. Warburton, an engineer of Pittsburgh, being in charge of the office and "Burr" Miller in charge of the drilling. In order to reach all the oil and gas bearing sands which are shown by the Geological surveys to be present on the western slope of the Chestnut ridge anticline, the company proposes to drill to a depth of 4,000 feet if necessary to penetrate the several sands. Being fully equipped for the purpose there is every hope on the part of citizens generally that all expectations will be realized and that Connellsville will be given a still larger place on the maps.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE MORE EXCELLENT WAY"—Starring Anita Stewart, supported by a splendid cast, is being shown today. In the role of Chrissy Desdell, the beautiful young girl who marries in pique and revenge and then finds that she loves her own husband, is delightful. She dominates every scene, and while there are other, unusually strong characters, her elderly guardian, who becomes her husband, interest is centered around Miss Stewart.

A selected comedy is also being shown. Tomorrow and Thursday Dolores Costello will be featured in "Tarnished Reputations," which introduces the heroine as a country maiden whose radiant freshness so inspires a young painter seeking seclusion in the village that he paints her as the "saint with the lilies," and falls in love with her. Miss Costello is given an opportunity to wear some beautiful gowns. The settings, lighting and photography are beyond reproach and the cast, including Albert Roscoe and Ned Burton, is equal to every requirement.

THE SOISSOY.

"THE THUNDERBOLT"—Starring Katharine MacDonald, popularly termed the most beautiful woman of the screen, is the leading attraction today. Cast in the role of a girl whose dream of married happiness is shattered by a "spite" marriage, Miss MacDonald does the greatest work in her screen career. As Ruth Pomeroy, daughter of the only living member of the family, Miss MacDonald is forced to marry Bruce Corbin, glib member of the Corbin family, which has hated the Pomeroy as the result of a feud dating back a generation.

A staggering realization of the reason why Bruce Corbin wanted to marry her comes upon Ruth Pomeroy when her unloving husband tells her that he married her not for love, but for the purpose of wiping out the Pomeroy family. She then perceives that according to his purpose her death will witness the extinction of her family. A strong determination backed by the fire of her pride, leads her to fight against what seems to be hope for her. And her efforts against an enemy husband defeat his plans and bring happiness out of a "spite" marriage.

Forty hours' devotion will begin at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at the Immaculate Conception church. The opening of the service will be marked by a procession of children, dressed in white and carrying flowers.

CONCESSIONS ARE PROBABLE IN NEW WATER RATE TABLE

May be Adjustment of Differences Between Scottdale and Company.

REVENUE FIGURES HELD UNFAIR

Returns Made to Public Service Commission Based on Only Partial Meter Installation, With Large Consumers Yet to Be Accounted For.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, May 18.—The Citizens Water company was unfair in the presentation to the Public Service Commission of the probable gross annual return on the water system, in view of the fact that the company is permitted to realize a gross revenue of $58,408. In its presentation the water company based the income on 90 per cent meter installation, this amounting to $67,150. This is not fair, it is contended, for the reason that meters to be installed will bring a return of $2 each and up and materially increase the figure submitted.

Under the order of the commission the water company is required to file a new schedule of rates within 30 days. It is believed there will be a slight increase in the water rate and a lowering of the meter rate, against which rate it now stands there has been a storm of protest, and also that there will be some concession to the manufacturing plants and other large consumers that would tend to remove the possibility of discouraging them and causing possible loss of the industries by the town. That there will be an adjustment of this character seems to be the prevailing belief in official circles. Should it not be the case an appeal will be taken.

The 90 per cent of meters already installed covers the smaller consumers, it is said, while practically all that remain are the large users of water.

Should the concessions above referred to be made it is practically certain that there will be no appeal by Scottdale and Emerson or A. P. Byrne, the complainants in the action.

The chief contention between the complainants and respondents has been the question of valuation of the water plant. The borough's engineers claimed that the valuation should not exceed $500,000, while the company claimed it should be $728,553. The commission, however, has placed the valuation at $600,000, on which it is entitled to a return of seven per cent per annum.

This will be the basis for determining what price may be charged the consumer for water.

In part the commission finding says: "The allowance for operating expenses is practically agreed upon. The respondent fixes this amount at $20,408, and the complainants accept this as fairly justified under the evidence. To this should be added a reasonable sum to cover depreciation, and the commission has determined this amount to be one per cent on the value fixed for rate making purposes. Fair value as determined by the commission is $600,000; seven per cent return thereon, $42,000; annual depreciation, $6,000; operating expenses and taxes, $20,408; gross annual revenue needed, $68,408.

"It is estimated that the gross revenues under the rate schedule complained against will not exceed $67,150, which is less than the respondent is entitled to and if these rates were equitably distributed among the different consumers, the complainants against them would be dissatisfied."

Divorce Suits Filed. Two divorce suits from Scottdale were filed yesterday. One was that of Eva May Cole against Oliver Cole for desertion. The Cokes were married July 15, 1913. Harry Jones has brought suit for divorce against his wife, Mary Marie Jones, on a charge of bigamy. It is claimed that Mary Marie Jones before her marriage to Jones was married to Alfred F. Goshorn, who is still living and from whom she has no divorce.

Born in 1839 Dr. Caldwell Still in His Office Daily

Wonderful vigor of the founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Millions now use his famous prescription Physicians know that good health depends largely upon proper digestion and elimination and that much sickness results from constipation. No one knows this better than the "family" doctor, the general practitioner.

Dr. W. B. Caldwell of Monticello, Illinois, was and is a family doctor. The whole human body, not any small part of it, was his practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

Dr. Caldwell in the course of 40 years' practice, for he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875, had found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year the preparation was first placed on the market. The picture of Dr. Caldwell that appears on the package was taken in that year.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in the doctor's private practice. Today the third generation is using it.

Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it, for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is selling at the rate of over 6 million bottles a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Syrup Pepsin, and the formula of that prescription is fortunately living to see its wonderful success.

Women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. While it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases, it is mild and gentle in its action and does not cause griping and strain. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby and children like it and take it willingly.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home. Where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL TODAY
Born Shelbyville, Mo. May 27, 1839
Began the manufacture of his famous prescription in 1892

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the longest-lived liquid laxative in the world, each being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

HARRISBURG, May 17.—Statistics of accidents suffered by the industrial workers of Fayette county during 1919 were announced today by Clifford B. Connelley, commissioner of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry. The figures were compiled by the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation. The report showed that 3,585 workers were injured last year, as compared with 6,796 in 1918.

Of the total number, 112 were fatal, 1,295 were reported as serious and 4,171 were of a minor nature. In mills, factories and general industrial work 619 workers were injured; in mines and quarries, 4,627 workers were injured, and in public service employment, 312 workers were injured.

The total industrial casualty record for the entire state in 1919 indicates that 152,551 workers were injured, of which 2,569 resulted fatally. There were 33,000 fewer industrial accidents in Pennsylvania last year than in 1918.

Allegheny county leads the list of accidents, Philadelphia is second and Luzerne county is third. Five counties not reporting any industrial fatalities during the year are Fulton, Montour, Pike, Union and Snyder.

No More Corn Suffering

"Get-It" Never Leaves a Corn On Any Foot For Very Long.

The hating "pep" goes right out of that corn the moment a few drops of "Get-It" lands thereon. It is tough, and "for keeps."

Corns and "Get-It" Can't Live Together

You'll have no more pain but will notice the corn getting loose and wobbly. In a day or so, you lift it right off without any feeling. That's the end of the corn and of your troubles. Millions have proved "Get-It" to be the one and only unailing, common sense corn remover. Why not you?

"Get-It" costs but a trifle at any drug store and carries a money-back guarantee. Mfd. by D. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Conneltsville and recommended by the world's best corn remedy by Conneltsville Drug Co., Conneltsville, Pa.; Laughery Drug Co., C. Roy Helvet, Windsor Pharmacy, Bisset & Co., J. C. Moore, A. A. Clarke.

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 12, 1936.

MAKE IT 100 PER CENT.

Compared with other towns in the state which have recruited posts of the American Legion with 100 per cent membership, by enrolling every resident ex-serviceman in their respective communities, Conneltsville has made a very poor showing with its local post. With approximately 1,000 names of Conneltsville boys alone on the Honor Roll at city hall, and several hundred in the immediate vicinity, a paid-up membership of but 250 represents considerably less than one-fourth of the men who are eligible to join the Milton L. Bishop post. True, some men are members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, to which only those who have seen service overseas are eligible and some are members of both the Veterans of Foreign Wars and The American Legion, but the great bulk of the wearers of Uncle Sam's uniform in the World War are without affiliation with either veteran organization.

These unaffiliated veterans should welcome the opportunity, "push" the legion is making to become en-rolled in its ranks. They rightly be- long there and should have a pride in being enrolled.

What a fine thing it would be if every man who saw service overseas would line up in the ranks of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and all those who were abroad in 1916-18 and those who were eagerly waiting for the order to go, would also respond to the call to become legionnaires. The city and the country need that both organizations include in their membership all those entitled to be enrolled. With our splendid record of an exceptional high percentage of population, re- sponding to our country's call during the Spanish American and the World War, we ought to have just as much pride in preserving that record by a 100 per cent membership in our veteran organizations. That would be applying to peace time the lessons Conneltsville and vicinity learned dur- ing war-time, when we furnished ex- amples for the emulation of other sec- tions of the country.

Damning Admiral Sims, not answer- ing his charges of incompetency and inefficiency, is becoming the chief pastime of the head of the Navy De- partment. A year ago, on the an- niversary of Dewey's victory in Manila Bay, Secretary Daniels, during an ad- dress in England, lauded Sims as a "courageous, wise and brave man," and eulogized the sailor and admiral as "our British brothers of the Grand Fleet who waited in inaction for the Germans." A few days ago he vilified Sims and gave his unqualified approval to President Wilson's taunt that the British navy was too "panic stricken" to do anything during the early days of the war.

The Monday serial from Washing- ton continued to make very "dry" reading, even in "wet" places.

The switchmen who are still hold- ing out have little or nothing in com- mon with the Railroad Labor Board in the matter of "marking up" for an early rat.

That a minister should work on Sunday without knowing what day it was is not only a disgrace but a license to those who have no doubt as to the day.

Killing cows with high-powered automobiles does not tend to reduce the price of beef as the cost of the riding.

Milton Bishop post has sounded the "Assembly" call in ex-servicemen.

Just Folks

Edgar A. Guest

THE REAL VIRTUES.

Man is not bound by law or rule.
To win the favor of the throng.
He is not taught in any school.
That honor only crown the strong.
A willing hand and kindly heart,
A voice that seems to tell a lie,
Are virtues which all seek in art
And all religious glorify.

There is on earth no chosen few.
The humblest toiler here can be
As manly and as true
As any king beyond the sea.
Rich men and poor, and dull and wise,
Master and servant day by day
Dream of the self-same Paradise
And for the self-same mercy pray.

Riches and fame are not the things
Which truly mark a man's success.
Despite the joy which conquest brings,
The jewels and the costly dress,
The test of manhood deeper goes,
One may have served a humbler plan,
And missed the pomp which glory knows.

But still have been no less a man.
He is not only great who hears
The plaudits of the fickle throng,
For merely failing to be strong.
For he who keeps his faith in God
Is honest, kind of heart and true,
Though forced in humbleness to plod,
Does all that any man can do.

Legal Notice.
In Re Petition to Satisfy Mortgage given by Peter Shaw, to William Baldwin, and by him assigned to Franklin Baldwin.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Fayette County, Pennsylvania.
No. 417 June 1, 1920.

To Franklin Baldwin, his heirs and legal representatives, or whoever may be the holder or holders of the Mor- tage heretofore mentioned.

You are hereby notified that on Mar- ch 2, 1920, Aline M. Atkinson, presented her petition, averring that she is the owner of all one hundred and thirty-three (133) acres of land, situated in the borough (now city) of Conneltsville, Fayette county, Pennsylvania, more particularly bound- ed and described as follows:

Fronting thirty-three (33) feet on Main street (now Crawford avenue) and running back, preserving the same width, a distance of one hundred and thirty-five (135) feet to Orchard ave- nue, bounded on the West by lot No. 77, and on the East by the eastern half of lot No. 68, and being known as the western half of lot No. 68, in the general plan of the borough (now city) of Conneltsville.

That an unsatisfied mortgage upon said premises remains of record in the office of the recorder of deeds of Fayette county, Pennsylvania, given by Henry Shaw to William Baldwin, dated April 7, 1918, in the sum of one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars, payable in two (2) years from date, and re- corded in mortgage book, Vol. 7, at page 120, and sustained by the adminis- trator of the estate of said Henry Shaw, Baldwin, deceased, to Franklin Bal- dwin, by assignment of mortgage, dated April 7, 1918, and recorded in assign- ment of mortgage book, Vol. 1, at page 151, and that the period of twenty-one years and more has elapsed since the principal of said mortgage became due and payable, and no payment has been made within said period of either principal or interest, or any part there- of, and praying for satisfaction there- of.

Whereupon said court ordered that a notice of said facts be served by the sheriff of said county, on said Franklin Baldwin, or his heirs, and legal representatives, or whoever may be the known holder or holders of said mortgage, if they are to be found in said county, and having known resi- dence, and if not, then to give public notice by advertisement requiring them to appear in said court on Tues- day, June 23, 1920, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to answer and show cause why said mortgage should not be granted, and said mortgage satisfied of record. U. L. Shaw, Sheriff of Fayette County, May 7, 1920.

Attorney for Petitioner, May 7, 1920.

But you do more— you invest your money judiciously, in a big, pros- perous utility that op- erates where you live.

And you are assured of a generous return, not overnight wealth.

The West Penn Railways Company is soon to establish freight and express service over its lines in the coke Region Di- vision.

Close to 400 mines are now being operated by West Penn power.

Concerning Weights

Did you ever stop to consider that short weight on commodities at present prices will affect the cost to you of those commodities, in comparison with full weight prices, much more than the possi- ble small advantage in price. You owe it to yourself to know that you are getting full weight on all your purchases. The higher in price any particular article is the more important does this become. Are you getting full weight?

HAD TERRIBLE COUGH AND NIGHT SWEATS

Cough Almost Gave Out, and Slept Well, and Gained 12 Pounds.

"In December, 1919, I had a fearful cough, and my physician ordered me to change climate immediately. I went to San Antonio, Texas, and entered a sanatorium. Left there and came to Okla. City in October, 1919. Had an operation, could not sleep, had night sweats and was losing from one to three pounds a week. I also had catarrh of the bowels, which the doctors had been unable to relieve. "Relative to me to try Milk Emulsion. I did so and began to improve. I gained 12 pounds. I have no temperature, and my cough is about gone. I can eat heartily, sleep well, and am working at my trade again."—V. W. Neff, 610 N. Dewey St., Okla. City, Okla.

Nature does wonders in fighting off disease. If given the chance, Milk Emulsion is a powerful help in providing strength and flesh. It costs nothing to try. BIG LINEUP OF CANDIDATES FOR BALTIMORE & OHIO TEAM

Tentative Schedule For Connellsville Division is Drawn Up.

EXHIB. GAME TOMORROW

Last evening in the offices of H. L. Cordery of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad a general meeting was held which was attended by nearly all the candidates for the B & O divisional team of Connellsville. The meeting was called to enroll all players who want to try for the team. Also a tentative schedule was drawn up for the playing dates of the team to meet the Somerset and Smithton teams of the division. The teams will play three games each in all. The winning team of the division will then play the winning team of the next division and so on down the line until the "champion" of the B & O system or are eliminated from the race.

That the local team will make a strong bid for titular honors can be judged by the large number of candidates who will try for places. Twenty-five above the average player are already on the book. With more yet to be heard from. In this list are some of the best players in this section including Bill Sauerz, S. Paulburn, A. Smith, M. Forester, R. Snyder, J. R. Haynes, E. Conn, S. Buecher, T. E. Carlson, H. S. Johns, H. G. Fisher, Joe Barrett, G. Jones, C. Francis, T. Jones, E. P. Hannigan, C. Mohr, R. Beckel, G. Clawson, H. Adams, E. Fisher, C. D. Konner, W. Harrison, Sam Jeffries, and S. Singer.

The schedule as arranged, does not include all the games. On the third game between the different teams a coin will be tossed to choose the city in which the game will be played. The tentative schedule follows:

May 25 Somerset at Connellsville
May 28 toss for grounds
June 4 Connellsville at Smithton
June 5 toss for grounds
June 8 Connellsville at Somerset
June 12 toss for grounds
June 12 Smithton at Connellsville
June 28 toss for ground

This schedule will be submitted to Somerset and Smithton for approval, and is subject to change.

INDEPENDENTS MEET WILSON'S STARS TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Tomorrow afternoon Fayette Field will be a mecca for all the lovers of baseball. At 3 o'clock the new or gamified Independent team will indulge in the first exhibition game with "Newt" Wilson's Stars.

Yesterday was a busy day at the home of the Independents. Load after load of lumber was hauled to the field with which to erect stands. Today the carpenters were busy with hammer and saw building the two boxes of bleachers down a base line from the home plate. This work is under the supervision of Robert L. Hannan who was awarded the contract for the work. With the field in first-class condition the players of the various teams in the city were out in large numbers playing the game yesterday. That tomorrow's game will attract a thronging crowd is indicated by the conversations heard about town last evening. All are anxious to see how the new team will shape up.

It is expected that the game will be completed sometime Wednesday. This work is being rushed so that the fans will be able to see the game in comfort. The seats are expected to hold 800 people comfortably. As the club will not charge an admission for the game the stands will be crowded by the time the umpire tells "Play ball."

BASEBALL CHIRPS.
The Trotter team will play the Lambert team at the latter place today. The boys will leave the Union Supply company store at Trotter at 3 o'clock.

The Republic team has organized for the season and will open next Sunday. The Connellsville Independents are ready for a game with Reynolds.

The Connellsville Independents are after a game with the Fayette City Independents to play at that place on a Sunday and a game here.

TRACK AND FIELD

Fayette Field had on a gala appearance today. Audrey Skene had a full flock of track and field men out going through a course of training for the big meet of the W. P. L. A. L.

TELL YOUR WIFE CORNS LIFT OFF

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift corns or calluses off with fingers

Not a twinge of pain or soreness before applying or afterwards. This may sound like a dream to corn-plagued men and women who have been cutting blisters and wearing torturous plaster. Yes, Corns lift off and calluses peel off as if by magic says the Cincinnati authority.

A quarter ounce of freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops directly upon your tender corn or callus, and instantly the soreness disappears. Then shortly the corn or callus will be so loose that it lifts off.

Freezone dries instantly. It doesn't eat out the corn or callus but just shrivels it up so it lifts away without even irritating the surrounding skin. Women should keep it on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.—Adv.

The full number include, Buttermore, Sam Melnick, P. Daniels, "Tiny" Tummer, Cuneo, Charles Cochran, Maurice Melnick, Heckinger, Jones, Humes, Danney, Angle and Bush.

The boys were sent over the different distances that they are trying for throwing the discus over the hurdles and he dashes. There is no doubt with the encouragement now given the students they will soon be in good condition and will make a creditable showing when called upon.

BOXING.

Bill Carter the local boxer received a letter today from Detroit calling him out at Detroit for the 27th. The man scheduled to meet Carter was evidently a middleweight as he could not make 145 pounds as requested. The letter stated that he could do no better than 150 pounds (entire) too much weight to give away and against the boxing commission rules of that city.

SAVAGE HAS RED BLOOD IN VEINS

Civilized Man Takes Exercise and Air—Organism Becomes Weakened.

Nine out of every ten people in most communities like this suffer from nervousness or from stomach and liver troubles. Kidney and intestinal ailments, imperfect digestion, gas, rashes, headaches or lack of ambition, said the Tanase Van.

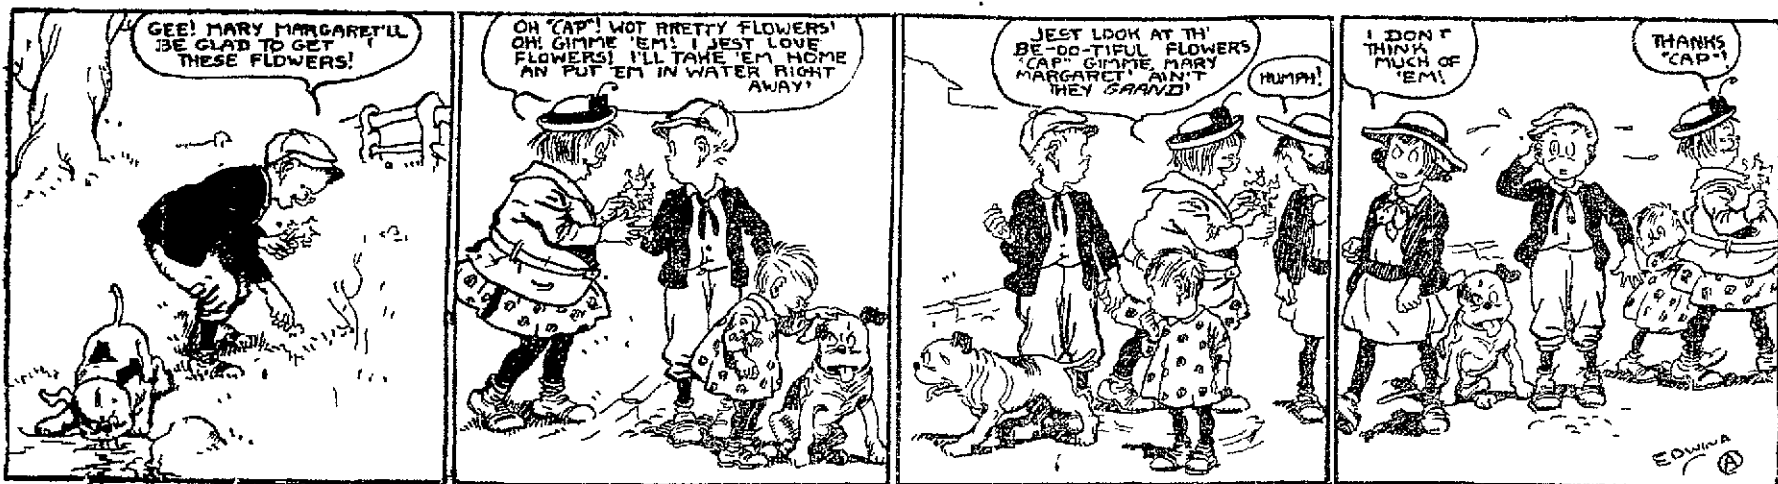

This is all due to our present faulty methods of living and is more prevalent in civilized sections than in the jungle because the savage takes outdoor exercise and air. The civilized man, eats rich food, lives in stuffy houses and never walks when he can ride. The result is that his stomach fails in its duties, his kidneys and other organs become clogged with waste matters and he finally yields to poisons generated within his own body.

Tanase, which is daily demonstrating its miraculous powers to overcome degeneration arising from misused vital organs and to restore and keep up the mental and physical vigor of youth, is sold here by Beignia's Pharmacy, Connellsville Drug Co., Fred H. Harmon, Ensign—Adv.

PATRONIZE THOSE WHO ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY COURIER

The Strange Case of Cavendish

By RANDALL PARRISH

Author of "The Devil's Own,"
"My Lady of the North," etc.

(Copyright, by Randall Parrish)

"Are you hurt?"
"No—not much. He knocked all the wind out of me. I'm all right now."

"Get up then! There's fighting enough ahead to make you forget that.
What happened?"

"He—he kicked me, I guess. I—I don't exactly know. I heard you go past us into that other room, and—and just turned my head to see. The next I knew I was on the floor. I thought I was going to faint. Did I get him with the knife?"

"No, it's over there, and I am afraid I didn't touch him either. It was all so sudden I got no aim. Do you hear those voices? There must be a dozen of the band outside already."

He looked up at her, his glance almost vacant, and she could but perceive how his chin shook.

"What shall we do?"

"Do!" She gripped his shoulder.

"Are you a man and ask that? We will fight! Did you imagine I would ever surrender myself into the hands of that devil after what has happened? I would rather die; yes, I will die before he ever puts hand on me. And what about you, Mr. Cavendish? Are you going to lie there mop-ing? Answer me—I thought you were —a gentleman."

The words were like a blow in his face, and under their sting he staggered to his feet; scarlet blazed in both his cheeks.

"You have no right to say that to me," he said angrily. "I'm not that kind."

"I know it," she admitted, "but you lose your nerve; this isn't your game.
Well, it isn't mine either, for the matter of that. Nevertheless, it has got to be played and we're going to play it together. Those fellows will be at that door presently—just as soon as Mendez tells them who are inside here.
They'll try us once and, if we can heat them back, that will give us a breathing spell. Two of us ought to hold them for some time."

There was a shouting of commands without in Spanish, punctuated by oaths, the meaning of which the girl alone understood. She leaned forward, her eyes on the door the cocked revolver held ready. She had meant what she said to Cavendish; to her mind death was far preferable to any surrender to that infuriated Mexican, the expected death, but one hope yet beyond her up—Westcott. He would come; she had faith in that—and he would find she had fought to the end, even if he came too late. She buried her face in her hands, stifling a sob that shook her body yet when she lifted her head again there was no glimmer of tears in her eyes and her cheeks were crimson. She waited motionless, scarcely seeming to breathe—the statue of a woman at bay.

All this was over for a moment, a moment of swift thought, of equally swift decision. The next Cavendish stood beside her, grasping the shotgun, no longer a victim of weakness, his eyes meeting hers eagerly.

"I could only find twelve cartridges," he exclaimed, "but I know how to use those."

He took a step forward and held out his hand.

"Forgive me, Miss Donovan," he pleaded. "Really I do not know what makes me like that but you would make a man out of anybody."

Her firm, slim fingers met his eagerly, her eyes instantly glowing in appreciation.

"Of course I forgive you," she exclaimed. "Your fear is no greater than my own. I am a woman and dread this sort of thing. All that gives me courage is the knowledge that death is preferable to dishonor," her voice lost its firmness, "and—and my faith in a man."

"You mean in possible rescue?"

Her eyes lifted to his face.

"Yes, Mr. Cavendish. It may prove all imagination, yet there is one—a real man I am sure—who must know of my plight before this. If he does, and lives, he will come to me. If we can only defend ourselves long enough there will be rescue."

A blow struck the outer door and was repeated, evidently dealt by the butt of a gun; then the two, standing silent and almost breathless within, heard Mendez' voice.

"Senorita, and you also, Senor Cavendish," he called, his words intended to be conciliatory. "It is of no use that you resist. We are many and armed.
If you surrender and not fight I pledge you protection."

The girl glanced at Cavendish.

"You answer him?"

"What shall I say?" he whispered.

"The man lies, he will keep no promise once we are in his power. Besides they have not yet found Cate-ras. When they do there will be no thought of mercy."

"Then we will fight it out!"

"I shall; I will never give myself into the hands of that creature!"

"Senor," and Cavendish stepped aside to the protection of the logs, "we will not surrender. That is our answer."

"Fools!" he called back, his voice rising above the growing of others. "We will show you Silva, Felipe, quick now; do what I told you.
We will teach these American dogs a lesson. No, stand back! Wait until I speak the word."

A faint glimmer of light through one of the log crevices caught Cavendish's attention and he bent down, his eye to the crack, one hand grasping the butt of his gun. Stella watched him motionless and silent, her face again pale from strain.

"I can count about a dozen out there," he said finally, his words barely audible, and his eye still at the slight opening. "All Mexican except two—they look American. Most of them are armed. Ah! Wait! The fellows have searched the cells and discovered Catecas. Do you hear that yell? It will be a fight to a finish now. Here come two men with a log —that's their game, then; they mean to smash in the door."
He straightened up casting a swift glance about the apartment. All head-lance, doubt, had left him now that the supreme test had come. He was again capable of thinking clearly and acting.

"Miss Donovan," he burst out, "we can never hope to hold back those men here—in this room. We shall be in bright light as soon as the door is battered down and then if they crash in the window also we shall surely be attacked from two sides."
"What will be better?" she asked.
"The back room, it is dark, with no windows and there are strips nailed between the logs. We can force that heavy wooden bed across the door and hide behind it. We ought to hold them there as long as our cartridges last, unless they set the cabin afire. Good God! They have begun already.
Three more blows like that and the door goes down. Come, it's our only chance."

It was the work of a moment, it had to be. The inner room was so dark they had to feel their way about blindly, yet those splintering crashes on the outer door interspersed by the shouts of the men spurred both to hurried effort. Nor was there much to be done. The heavy bed was thrown upon its side and heaved and pushed forward until it rested against the door jambs. The mattress and blankets so caught and held as to form protection against bullets. Breathless the two sank to their knees in the darkness behind their eyes on the brightening daylight of the room beyond. Already a hole had been stove through the upper panel of the door the surrounding wood splintered. Some one tried once through the jagged opening and an exultant yell followed from without.

PECHIN MAN HAS SECURED 640 ACRE RANCH IN WYOMING

Hamilton Hughes, Home After Trip to Place, Pronounces It a Paradise.

BRINGS BACK LOT CURIOS

William Liston Not So Taken With California and Returns to Stay; "Climate, All Right, but Can't Live on Climate," He Says; Other Notes.

Special to The Courier.

DUNBAR, May 17.—Hamilton Hughes of Pechin hill, who went to Wyoming a few months ago with the intention of locating in that state if conditions were favorable, has returned home and is preparing to remove his family to that country. He was successful in securing 640 acres of land of fine quality not far from the Yellowstone National park, and is enthusiastic over his good fortune and the outlook. A fine railroad passes near the section, a big farm or ranch being the second section back from the railroad. He is one of a half mile from the school house. A railroad station is near it with post office and store where supplies are secured. The principal industry is grazing, but gardening and farming to a limited extent are practiced. The climate is very different from this section, and of such a nature that the cattle and sheep can pasture the entire winter, except when a very heavy snow storm comes, or a blizzard drives them into the corral. The storms, however, are not of long duration and the chinook winds soon melt the snow, leaving the buffalo grass exposed for grazing. Field beans are a profitable crop, and many of them are shipped east, being known in the stores here as "Great Western beans."

Mr. Hughes brought with him quite a lot of curios from that country, including many varieties and specimens of cactus, ants, buffalo horns, stone, etc. He has given a number of his friends specimens. Mr. Hughes expects to be ready to migrate to his new home within a month or two, just as soon as he has made suitable disposition of his property here either by lease or sale. There are already a number of Fayette county people in Wyoming and Mr. Hughes' section is near some of them, so he is not entirely among strangers. He says no one in that section would long be without friends, the people being sociable and neighborly.

William Liston Returns.

William Liston, who went to California last autumn to spend the winter, has returned from the Golden State, and is glad to be back again in Dunbar. He was located near San Diego and was greatly pleased with the climate, but, as he says, "You can't live on climate," and that's about all the good that section has to live on, work being scarce and there being no demand for labor. He says California is a paradise for the rich, but his attractions for the laborer are far from ideal. Mr. Liston will visit friends here for a week or so before going to work. He prefers a country where labor is in demand and work plenty to a country where the greatest inducement is climate.

Notes of Turace Town. David A. Ketter returned to his work at Clairton yesterday after spending the week-end at his home on the Ferguson road.

Mrs. Pearl Cooper and sons Charles and Louis of Thompson No. 2 were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole, of Ketter, yesterday.

Mrs. Eliza Lehman Twigg of Allison were at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lehman of Ketter yesterday, having come home to attend the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. Lehman, of Mount Braddock, which occurred yesterday afternoon.

Miss Charles Baker of Pechin continues quite ill, and fear is entertained that she is contracting fever.

Mrs. Thomas Jeffries, Jr., is quite ill from colic and grip complications and appears to be making little, if any, improvement.

Albert Cole of Continental No. 2 was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole of Ketter last Friday.

The frosts of last week did not damage the fruit in this section. They did not even nip the tender grapevine shoots, which are unusually sensitive to cold.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Ketter of Ferguson road were Connelleville visitors and shoppers Saturday.

Clarence Miller, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Cottage State hospital some weeks ago, has recovered and returned to his home at Monarch.

The boys are having interesting times with their bicycles since the sun has made the roads solid enough for this form of exercise.

Mrs. Henry Black and children of Connelleville were visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Brown of Pechin yesterday.

PHILLIPS

Of Dunn Station Speaks Highly of Nerv-Worth.

"For seven or eight years following an attack of measles I had been troubled considerably with nervousness, for which I doctored without getting any relief, said L. H. Phillips. "My legs and arms shook and at times had dizzy spells, particularly after any exertion or excitement. Naturally my sleep and rest were affected and I would wake up tired. I am using Nerv-Worth and cannot speak too highly of it. My entire condition is greatly improved. The nervousness has nearly disappeared and I can sleep and rest well and feel fresh upon rising in the morning. My appetite and digestion have improved and my condition as a whole is better than for years."

Mu-col Quickly Defeats Deadly Catarrh Germs

Says Mu-col Makes Miserable, Dependent Catarrh Sufferers Well Again in Short Time at Trifling Cost.

Here is the only sure way to get rid of catarrh with all its obnoxious symptoms. Go to your druggist today and say "I want a small package of MU-COL." Dissolve half a teaspoonful in a teaspoonful of warm water and stir till dissolved. Then, by sniffing up from the palm of the hand or by using nasal syringe or atomizer, allow the MU-COL solution to come into contact with the infected membrane. Almost instantly you will feel the effect as its penetrating antiseptic properties are carried into every nook and crevice of the mucous membrane where the germs thrive and multiply, loosening up the congestion and accumulated secretions, which if not attended to now, will eventually threaten the existence of the membranes themselves. Connelleville Drug Co. and all good druggists can supply you.—Adv.

Beauty More Than Skin Deep. There is an old saying that beauty is only skin deep. That may be so with those who get their beauty out of a box but not the genuine sort. Beauty is really only another word for good health and no woman who is bilious and constipated can reasonably hope to be beautiful. Chamberlain's Tablets will correct these disorders, then with proper diet and exercise there is no reason why any young woman with regular features may not hope to be beautiful.—Adv.

USHAKEN TESTIMONY

Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Connelleville. No Connelleville resident who suffers backache, or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this twice-told testimony.

Mrs. A. Luking, 819 Ninth street, Connelleville, says: "Some years ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. When I stooped or bent over, I could hardly straighten up again because I had such sharp pain in the small of my back. I also had trouble with the action of my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by a friend, so I got some. They helped me a whole lot and it has been nearly four years since I have had to take them."

Relies on Doan's. Mrs. Luking gave the above statement March 18, 1912, and on August 9, 1919, she added: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a good, old, reliable kidney medicine. I use them whenever my back hurts or my kidneys get out of order and I recommend them just as highly as I did in 1912."

Price 60¢ at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Luking had. Foster-McBirney Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Gives Credit Through the Land. Backache, lame and stiff muscles and rheumatism pains are often symptoms of deranged kidneys. Since taking Foley Kidney Pills I have been relieved of all such ailments." They rid the system of the poisonous acids that cause aches and pains. Sold everywhere.—Adv.
